In my position as Director of Central Intelligence, I have the use of an official Government vehicle and chauffeur. On occasion I use this car as authorized for personal business. Under the laws of several States it is quite possible that while making personal use of my official car I may be personally liable for injuries or damages caused through the negligence of my driver or myself. Such personal use of my official car is infrequent, but I am not certain that it is covered under the terms of my liability policy with your company. Will you please inform me whether or not I am so covered and, if not, will you extend the coverage of my policy for that purpose.
